DEPORTED AGITATORS PLACED IN STOCKADE

Governor of Arizona Admits He Cannot Handle Situation, Which Has National Scope

PRISONERS CHEER AS SHERIFF GUARDS THEM

Military Authorities to Decide on Disposition of the Men Brought From Strike Scene

COLUMBUS, N. M., July 14.—Declaring that they were men without a country and asserting they would not return to Arizona, to help the United States win the war by digging copper, the 1200 Industrial Workers of the World banished from Bisbee arrived here today from Hermancas, N. M., and were placed under guard of United States troops.

They were placed in a detention camp, where they were fed by military authorities. The arrival was ordered. The men were commanded to march, and after disembarking marched to the camp, which formerly was occupied by Mexican refugees who accompanied General Pershing's expedition out of Mexico.

Sheriff W. C. Simpson accompanied the party from Hermancas with a strong force of deputies.

An escort of troops joined the party en route here at Douglas, Ariz.

Colonel Horatio G. Sickle, commanding here, is under instructions from Washington to provide for the agitators pending action of the federal authorities. They are not to be confined in the stockade but a reasonable number at a time will be allowed the freedom of the town.

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 14.—The I. W. W. men in Arizona with 21,000 idle from the mines, mills and smelters, has grown out of control of any authority save that of the Federal government, in the opinion of Governor Tom Campbell. As yet there is no indication of active government aid.

The governor has declared that he feared "a possible tragedy" would grow out of the dangerous situation, it was learned today.

Nor is the possibility of bloodshed the sole evil element in the situation. The metal output is virtually paralyzed. Miners, who would be working save for I. W. W. agitation, are suffering a wage loss of $100,000 a day, the governor declares.

"I have tried everything and exhausted my resources, to no avail," the governor is reported as saying. He then cited the instance where he sought to resort to the appeal of patriotism. He had asked an I. W. W. leader in Globe if he did not feel a patriotic responsibility in view of the war.

"If no, we take no interest in this war and we do what we can to prevent it," the governor said was the reply. "Let the copper barons go to the front. We'll take care of the miners."

The Loyalty League, which deported the I. W. W. from Bisbee and Jerome and which has spread to Globe, Miami, Ajo, Douglas and other localities, was organized here today. It will act in conjunction with the rifle club and reserve and the city police. Citizens are determined to rid the city of agitators.

MORE DEPORTATIONS.

GLOBE, Ariz., July 14.—Deportations similar to the wholesale riddance of I. W. W.'s at Bisbee and Jerome seem likely here and at Miami today as the strike situation with 7000 men outruns more action. Some individuals openly expressed the fear that the Loyalty League, which is being augmented by home guard members and deputy sheriffs, is considering ousting I. W. W.'s. The county attorney has wired Governor Campbell advising that such action is likely.

ROADS GUARDED.

BISBEE, Ariz., July 14.—Armed guards stationed in permanent camps today along all the main railroads and highways entering Bisbee are challenging and examining every person entering the district today as an actual demonstration of Bisbee's determination to keep deported I. W. W.'s from returning to this district at every depot passengers alighting from trains are questioned.

Several more I. W. W.'s have been caught in the continued round-up that began when 1200 were reported. As the result of the clean-up mine operators report big increase in men returning to work. Pickets no longer are stationed at any of the mines.

REMOVED IN CARS.

NO PEACE UNTIL RESPONSIBILITY FIXED; PREMIER

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

LONDON, July 14.—"There can be no lasting peace until the responsibility of governments to their people is clearly established from one end of Europe to the other," declared Premier Lloyd-George today in a telegram to the Russian premier, Prince Lvoff.

Coming at a time when the German empire is in the throes of a political struggle to achieve some measure of reforms in government, the British premier's message is strikingly significant. The prime minister thus vigorously backs up President Wilson's declaration that democracy of all peoples is one of the basic principles for which the allies are fighting.

Youths Will Be Chosen As Laborers

Hundreds of California boys above 16 years of age are soon to be organized for emergency farm labor under direction of Professor E. H. Crocheron of the University of California, the federal state director of the boys working reserve of the United States. Youths who volunteer for such labor will undergo physical examination to determine their fitness, may be mobilized at the state university farm at Davis for preliminary training and will be paid fair wages if put to work.

PLANS COMPLETE.

Professor Crocheron announced today through the State Council of Defense that the plans for the organization of the boys were made at a recent conference held at the Washington, at which Secretary of Labor Wilson presided. Esther Hooper, food director, assisted in the arrangements. Similar organization of the boys' reserve already has been accomplished in other states, it is said, and 12,000 young men in New York, Illinois, Massachusetts and Illinois the plan also is in operation.

County farm "advisers" will be directors of boys who labor on farms and they will be enrolled through the successful systems and farm bureaus.

STUDENTS TO AID.

The State Board of Education has announced that 2158 high school boys and 542 girls already have volunteered to work on farms and 269 men teachers and 149 women teachers have offered to serve during vacation time as paid supervisors of such labor.

The labor situation in California is not such that schoolboys as a whole will have to be called out to assist, according to Professor Crocheron.

It is thought the need will become more acute as the war goes on and the plan is to have a boys' reserve ready for such need as may arise. Boy laborers will be sent only to farms where sanitary and living conditions have been approved after investigation.

FARM BUREAU AIDS.

A call for 250,000 farm laborers and high schoolboy help for root picking, for threshing and grain harvesting has been sent out by the Alameda county farm bureau to meet the present scarcity of labor. Employment will be found on farms throughout the county for as many high schoolboys as care to apply to the farm bureau, according to D. E. Martin, assistant farm adviser, who said: "Farmers are experiencing labor scarcity, especially in their apricot orchards, and the bureaus are doing its best to relieve the situation. Free farm employment bureaus have been established in the different agricultural communities in the county, where the farmer is invited to state his labor wants, which we will endeavor to supply. Farm laborers are asked to apply for jobs there. By this means it is hoped the work on farms will be carried on without a hitch."

Martin was appointed assistant farm adviser by the University of California extension department a week ago and will pay special attention to the farm labor situation.

LACAZE HOPEFUL

PARIS, July 14.—The German have abandoned hope of obtaining victory by arms," said Admiral LaCaze, French minister of marine, to the Associated Press today. "As a last resort they have tried submarine warfare, proclaiming that in four to six weeks we should be on our knees. "As a matter of fact we are bringing four million tons weekly into the country. Every month increases our certainty of being able to repair our losses. The submarine warfare, which is being augmented by home guard members and deputy sheriffs, is considering ousting I. W. W.'s. The county attorney has wired Governor Campbell advising that such action is likely.

L. A. TRAITORS PLOT TO KILL WAR MISSION

One Austrian Is Under Arrest, While Authorities Search for Three Other Members of Ring

Southern City Welcomes Band of Belgian Emissaries With a Two-Day Reign of Events

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—A plot to assassinate members of the Belgian War Mission, which arrived in this city today, was frustrated by the police. One Austrian is under arrest and the police are searching for three others.

The plot was to hurl a bomb into the automobile in which the distinguished visitors rode.

He was taken into custody at midnight and the names of his companions are all said to be known to the detectives.

The police are said to have evidence that a bomb had been manufactured by the anarchists.

The plot was first revealed to the authorities when a prominent Russian whose name was kept secret informed the police that he had heard rumors of the proposed assassination.

POLICE ON GUARD.

Chef of Police Butler has carried out to the minutest detail the further guarding of the Belgians. No person carrying a suitcase or bundle will be permitted to enter the exercises at the auditorium this afternoon. Every suspicious character will be arrested. Patrolmen will attend the ball at the Shrine auditorium tonight in dress uniforms so that they cannot be distinguished from guests. Detectives have been detailed to guard members of the mission.

Two hundred and fifty police officers, every available man in the department, were placed today to guard the line of march. Uniformed officers were stationed at practically every street intersection, while scores of plain clothes men were scattered throughout the crowd.

A number of officers were stationed on the roofs of buildings downtown. They were equipped with powerful field glasses and watched the movements of the crowd constantly.

A special guard of police detectives was at the side of the Belgians at every minute.

MISSION'S ENVOYS FEETED.

When the Belgian War Mission arrived today they immediately captured the heart of Los Angeles.

Representatives of the great little country were cheered to the echo and Baron Moncheur, with head bared, stood at attention while a tremendous demonstration greeted the visitors at the station.

This is the second time in a week that Hindenburg and Ludendorff have been summoned from the front to Berlin on the Kaiser's orders.

Chancellor Hollweg's resignation was accepted, according to the Berlin newspaper, Tagliche Rundschau.

The Tagliche Rundschau is a National Liberal organ which has heretofore been exceedingly accurate in its governmental news.

AMSTERDAM, JULY 14.—The Berlin Local Anzeiger was suppressed by the German government today, presumably because of the frankness of its discussion of the peace and parliamentary situation in recent issues.

This afternoon a gigantic parade marched through the downtown section and escorted the commission to the Shrine Auditorium, where honors were done to the Belgian emissaries.

Twenty-four officers and seventy-one men were killed and five others are missing, none of them military officers. The Armada was sunk June 27 in the Atlantic.

FIGHTS DRAFT ACT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—Articles of incorporation for a company having for its purpose fighting the selective service act in the courts and making alterations in the constitution of the United States were filed today by Daniel O'Connell, attorney. Incorporation of the initiative, referendum and making a declaration of war impossible without a two-thirds vote of the people and testing the validity of all orders under which fighting men are sent to Europe are other purposes of the organization.

REVOLT IS SPREADING.

There is no doubt in the mind of officials that the parliamentary revolt in Germany is spreading. The seriousness of the situation as Washington sees it is that the reformists have control of the Reichstag. Thus they are able to postpone or refuse a vote on the war credits bill. In such a contingency the German autocracy has two courses left—one to make some concessions; the other, to prorogue the refractory parliament. But in the latter event it was pointed out new elections must be called within sixty days under the German constitution.

The fact that the unconfirmed rumors mentioned him as successor to the Kaiser recalled United Press dispatches in the week that the Crown Prince has been summoned to Berlin because the reformists insisted that he as heir to the throne, subscribe to reform pledges so that their fulfillment

KAISER'S AbdICATION NOT YET CONFIRMED

WILHELM IS REPORTED TO HAVE QUIT

Rumors That Prince Joachim Has Taken Throne Indicate Gravity of Crisis in Germany

Chancellor Hollweg's Resignation Is Said to Have Been Accepted; War Minister Out BULLETIN.

BERNE, Switzerland, July 14

(British Ambassador Wireless Press)—An official telegram from Berlin says that General von Stein, the Prussian minister of war, has resigned.

ZURICH, July 14.—A majority of the Prussian ministers have resigned, according to despatches quoting the German press here today.

LONDON, July 14.—Sensational rumors that the Kaiser has lost his throne were current in Holland today. They are unconfirmed.

The Amsterdam correspondent of the Morning Post cabled today as follows:

"Rumors are current here that Emperor Wilhelm has abdicated in favor of his son, Prince Joachim. They are unconfirmed and must be taken with reserve."

These rumors followed close upon the heels of a report that the Reichstag had gone upon a strike, and that the main committee is still refusing to vote the 15,000,000-mark war credit sought by the government.

The political dissensions in Germany continue to grow more menacing and complicated.

The crisis is being watched with the most intense interest by diplomats in London and Paris, for it is believed that the longer it continues the closer it will bring the German government to a realization of the inevitable.

A number of officers were stationed on the roofs of buildings downtown. They were equipped with powerful field glasses and watched the movements of the crowd constantly.

PARIS HOLDS CELEBRATION OF BASTILLE

By W. S. Forrest,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, July 14.—Not since the Bastille fell, 128 years ago, has Paris rejoiced in such full measure over the progress of democracy as she did today in the anniversary of that epochal event.

The city's millions crowded the streets to cheer bronzed veterans of every branch of the French service as they passed in review, and from the trenches, out to gaze aloft at the greatest aerial parade of fighting machines that has ever been held.

Nearly every building in Paris was festooned with the tri-color. The route of the parade was literally a vista of the French colors.

BEGINS EARLY.

The day's celebration began at 8 o'clock at the Place Nation. There President Poincaré, Marshal Joffre and all French ministers, with group of distinguished army officers and Major General John J. Pershing, representing France's newest ally, stood in review.

Before them passed 8000 of France's heroes. Not one of this great body of men was without a decoration on his breast. Some there were whose medals literally covered the upper left side of their coats.

They bore reverently and amid frantic cheers 134 regimental flags—the standards of regiments "cited in the orders of the day for gallantry." Foremost in this gallant group of heroes were twelve members of the Legion of Honor. Lieutenant Georges Guynemer, France's greatest aviator, who has brought down close to eighty enemy planes, was in this group carrying his much-prized Escadrille flag—the one cited in a score of French army reports.

This was the first time that an assembly of the Legion of Honor had marched in formal parade since the start of the war.

BATTALIONS CHEERED.

Behind the Legionnaires came battalions of some of the most famous of the French fighting regiments, whose names will always be hallowed in French memory. Some came direct from the trenches.

The parade passed the reviewing stand and through the principal downtown streets of the city, including the Boulevards St. Germain, St. Germain des Prés, Luxembourg gardens. There hundreds of wounded soldiers cheered their comrades. In front of the great bronze Lion at Belfort place the procession disbanded.

Throughout its line of parade 150 French aeroplanes darted above, flying at an altitude of 2000 feet.

OFFICERS SEATED

RICHMOND, July 14.—Officers were installed last night by the Knights of Columbus at the meeting of the Order in Club Room 100. The installation was in charge of Great Deputy Commander A. J. Kiel of Oakland. Following the installation a social time was enjoyed by the officers and members.

Those installed were F. G. Schaefer, past commander; W. Conway, commander; G. Muller, Lieutenant commander; O. H. Dunn, record keeper; O. J. Dahl, chaplain; H. L. Carpenter, physician; J. L. V. sergeant; B. Childs, first M. of G.; F. W. Hess, picket; J. O. Dahl, picquet.

A dance with music by the band of Oakland Tent is being planned by the local lodge.

SOCIAL IS HELD

RICHMOND, July 14.—Thirty-five members and friends of the Ladies Aid society of the Methodist Episcopal church were entertained at a tea yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. A. Trautwein, 123 Fourth street. Mrs. R. E. Slattery, president of the society, assisted Mrs. Trautwein in entertaining. During the afternoon several skits were presented by Miss Lucile Kistler, well-known local soprano.

Many of those present signed Hoover pledges following a discussion of the conditions of the world.

The next tea in the series will be played at the club house on July 27. At that time twenty-four hands will be played instead of twenty.

Suffragists in "Bastile Day" Jailed Flaunt Banners, But For Short Spell

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The militant suffragettes this afternoon celebrated "Bastile day" by landing in the Capital's bastile.

In accordance with their announced program, members of the National Woman's party sallied forth from their headquarters to picket the White House with banners emblazoned with the motto of the French revolution, "Liberty, Equality, Fraternity," queries to the President, "How Long Must American Women Wait for Liberty?" and other inscriptions just as the thousands were issuing from the big State, War and Navy buildings for the half holiday.

At first they were unmolested but within a few minutes the police began making arrests.

In spite of the enormous crowd that gathered no disorder attended the arrests and there were even sporadic outbursts of applause. The prisoners were taken to police headquarters in private automobiles. Before the roundup was complete sixteen women of the delegation, had been arrested.

The women arrested today were: Miss Julia Huriburt, Morristown, N. J.; Mrs. J. A. H. Hopkins, Morrisville, N. J.; Miss Minnie Abbott, Atlantic City, N. J.; Mrs. Beatrice Reynolds, Kinkead, Mountain View, Calif.; Mrs. Balsch D. Reynolds, Detroit; Miss Anne Martin, Reno, Nev.; Mrs. Florence Bayard Hilles, Wilmington, Del.; Mrs. Robert Walker, Baltimore; Miss Jeanette Frothingham, Massachusetts; Mrs. Gibson Gardner, Washington, D. C.; Miss Anna Stevens, Omaha; Miss Mary J. Larcher, Philadelphia; Mrs. John Rogers, New York; Mrs. Eleanor Cudian, Weymouth, Mass.; Mrs. Louise H. Mayo, Framingham, Mass.; Mrs. John Winters, Brannan, N. Y.

TEUTON ACTS CEMENT BOND OF 2 NATIONS

TRIBUNE BUREAU
BERKELEY, July 14.—That von Bethmann-Hollweg's no peace without annexation declaration has served to cement Italy and France into more closely bound entities than ever before is the belief of Professor Gilbert Chirard of the French department of Dr. Emilie George of the Italian department or the University of California faculty. Prof. Chirard says:

"I think the German chancellor's statement splendid. It leaves no doubt whatever as to the intention of the German imperial government. It is a declaration to the few people in America who felt any hesitancy and will clear the issues between the Allies and the Germans better than could any speech even of President Wilson. The program of the Allies for peace without annexations and the Germans have now placed themselves decidedly against this program."

"von Bethmann-Hollweg's statement will have a great influence on the war in England and Russia. In the latter it should stop at once the Socialists' desire for peace. It was the biggest diplomatic mistake von Bethmann-Hollweg has made thus far."

Both the German chancellor's program differs from that of Italy in the Trentino was pointed out by Dr. Goglio. Commenting upon the statement, he said:

"The declaration is the natural outcome of the government's policy throughout the war. Germany is desperate now and she must either succumb or hold to such a definite course of thought and action in the last fight."

"Italy is united at the present time as never before. We feel that our country is fighting for the same high ideals that America is upholding. Of course, there is the expectation and hope that Italy and the Trentino will be won back to the Allies, but our Italy is not fighting for that reason alone and resents such an imputation by any one."

PIONEER IS DEAD

Mrs. Katherine Schultz, wife of Fred W. Schultz, capitalist, and one of the oldest members of the German colony, is dead at her home, 1607 Grove street. She was seized with a stroke of paralysis three weeks ago and died yesterday afternoon. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Monday from the family home.

The couple were to have celebrated their golden wedding next year. Mrs. Schultz was born in Fersmott, Pennsylvania. She had lived in Oakland thirty-two years and in Colusa county seventeen years. She leaves her husband and a family of four: Herman and Fred W. Schultz and Mrs. James H. Balsom of Colusa county and Mrs. John P. Maxwell of this city, also three grand children.

COUNCIL TO MEET

The People's Council of America, an organization working, according to an announcement given to the press, "to secure an early, democratic and general peace in harmony with the principles outlined by New Russia," will hold a meeting next Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in San Francisco at the Pacific building, Fourth and Market streets.

Mrs. Alice Ware Bennett, the nation's organizer, and Mrs. Hanna Sheehan Steffington, Irish Nationalist, will be among the speakers. Others will be the Rev. Robert Whittaker and Colonel C. E. D. Wood of Portland, Oregon.

Dr. David Starr Jordan, former president of Stanford University, is the treasurer of the society.

CHABOT ESTATE

Mrs. Emily M. Chabot, Oakland pioneer, who died in June, 1915, left an estate of $344,684, according to the appraisement made in the probate department of the Superior Court yesterday. The estate will be divided among her four daughters—Mrs. Henrietta King, Mrs. Joseph Dieckman, Mrs. Katherine E. Dunn and Mrs. Clara Boqueraz.

QUARTET TO SING

The Fisk Jubilee Singers, the most noted colored quartet in America, will sing at the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening. They will give a program of sacred music. This quartet has sung for the big phonograph record companies. It is sacred music which gives them a good opportunity for their voices. Rev. Wallace H. Lee, D.D., of Oregon, will preach at the evening service.

ALAMED

Mother of Dancer Grieved At Her Daughter's Denial

MRS. LAURA CARTER GOULD

She Has Pictures of Gould's Bride As a Babe

BOSTON, July 14.—Mrs. Margaret Carter, mother of the youthful bride of George Gould Jr., is broken-hearted because her daughter declared her parents were dead when she applied for a license in Philadelphia to marry the heir to the Gould millions.

At least a score of millionaires sought to win the attractive young dancer, it was learned today. Her former partner, a stockbroker, said he had been sought after. She is a member of all the smart dancing clubs in the college town and has taken part in many of his offerings on behalf of charity. For several seasons she has been one of the belles in the Berkeley Assembly, which numbers the most exclusive girls on this side of the bay and San Francisco. It was three years ago she took her degree from the University of California, where she was prominent in student activities and as a "Theta." Butterworth belongs to a representative family in Santa Barbara.

Because a girl happens to be a war-time bride and because she is filled with a patriotism which moves her to give up much of the elaborate detail in which she had planned to make her wedding, is no reason at all that the ceremony should still not be as lovely and happy as though it were occurring in perfectly normal times.

For a girl is a bride but once and the wedding is something which belongs to one of the notable dates in her life and of course it must become a beautiful memory to her through the span of years which follow. Cards were issued this morning for the marriage of Miss Bernadette Williams, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Williams, and John Clinton Ernest Jr. It was originally planned that the ceremony would be one of the most brilliant of last summer, but the attendant arrangements and all the pomp which so important a marriage suggested. It is quite true that there will be a goodly little company of friends throng St. Augustine's Church in Claremont to the number of some 250, with 100 guests included in the invitation for the reception which will follow at the family residence, but aside from the numbers the entire arrangements have been changed. The service will be read at the hour of 4 on Saturday afternoon, July 28, by Father Egan. The only attendant will be Miss Lois Williams, who will serve her sister as maid of honor. Edward Bedell will assist Ernest as best man.

That the new home is to be made in San Clemente and therefore will take the popular young girl away is deeply regretted by that coterie of the younger set with which she is a favorite. However, the capital city is not so great a distance from the home fireside and there will be many an exchange of visits of more or less extended length.

Miss Williams is a graduate of Miss Head's school and was formerly a student in one of the exclusive girls' seminaries down the peninsula. For a time she attended the University of California and was president of the Omega Nu sorority. She is the daughter of the state superintendent of banks.

Ernest is the son of a prominent Sacramento man, a director of the California State Automobile Association and an automobile manufacturer in Sacramento. Formerly he was a student in the University of California.

The betrothal was formerly announced at an elaborate reception on New Year's Day at the Williams residence in Claremont, since when Miss Williams has been widely feted both here and in Sacramento, where she has been a frequent guest.

Miss Phyllis C. Hayes, the charming daughter of Congressman E. A. Hayes and Mrs. Hayes, will become the bride this evening of Robert Allen Griffin. The wedding will have the handsome Hayes residence in San Jose as its setting, with only a little company of the closest friends and relatives in attendance. At 9 o'clock the simple ceremony will be read. The honeymoon will be but a brief one, for on Monday morning Griffin must report back at the officers' training camp at the Presidio. The movements of the young couple will depend entirely upon the will of Uncle Sam in his final disposition of the gallant young chaps who are undergoing the strenuous training.

Miss Hayes during the past season was a favorite in Washington society, where the pretty girl from California was made much of in official circles. Griffin is a graduate of Stanford with the class of this summer.

Like unto one of those old world fêtes or the festivals of the earlier California age will be that triumphal reception dinner and dance for which Mrs. Grace Requa is throwing her famous Piedmont gardens and home today and again this evening to the men in the officers' training camp at the Presidio. Mrs. Requa is the first hostess to offer hospitality to this side of the bay and in her invitation to greet the boys in khaki has included scores of the charming young maids and matrons, who are as keen in their anticipation for the al fresco function as the officers-in-the-making. Her daughter, Mrs. Oscar F. Long, will assist in her hostess duties.

Todays celebrates the Fall of the Bastile and this is one of the reasons which decided Mrs. Requa in naming this the occasion of her entertainment. The same courtesy which was offered America on Independence Day will be returned the French in recognizing their most important national holiday.

Among those whom Mrs. Requa has included in her hospitality, aside from the men who will cross the bay, are Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Starr, Mr. and Mrs. Alben Chickering, Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Edson F. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Magee, Mr. and Mrs. William de Fremery, Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Van Sant, Mr. and Mrs. Harry East Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. William Thornton White, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Magee, Mrs. Mark Requa, Mrs. Harvey Johnson, Miss Julia Van Fleet, Miss Kate Crocker, Miss Anna Wheeler, Miss Amy Requa, Miss Eliza Adams, Miss Laura K. Maxwell, Miss Adeline Howard, Miss Elizabeth Adams, Miss Carmen Ghirardelli, Miss Elva Ghirardelli, Miss Juana Ghirardelli, Miss Sally Havens, Miss Betty Folger, Miss Eliza Folger, Miss Elinor McNear, Miss Miriam Beaver, Miss Elena Eyre, Miss Cornelia Clappett, Miss Alice Requa, Miss Dorothy Coon, Miss Helen Adams, Miss Flora Miller, Miss Anne Elizabeth Crowder, Miss Helen Clark, Miss Alice Claire Smith, Miss Annie Barbour, Miss Margaret Sheld, Miss

An informal luncheon on Monday will assemble the several women of the Caroline Merrivether Goodell chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy who yet remain in town at a delightful affair at the Young Woman's Christian Association Building. Edward L. Moses of San Francisco will be the speaker of the hour, with Mrs. Fred Harrison presiding as hostess. In August a more elaborate function is planned as an opening to the new year's work.

The Lone Wolf

By LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

Or, by entering a narrow-chested box, about the dimensions of a generous coffin, and pressing a button bearing the number of the floor at which he wished to alight, he could have been comfortably wafted aloft without sign of more human agency. But he availed himself, prudently, of neither of these conveniences. Afoot, and in complete darkness, he made his ascent of five flights of winding stairs, pausing at length before the door of an apartment on the sixth floor. A flash from a pocket lamp located the keyhole; the key turned without a sound; the door sprang open silent like a whisper.

Once inside, the adventurer moved more freely, with less precaution against noise. He was on known ground, and alone; the apartment, though furnished, was untenantanted, and would so remain as long as Lanyard continued to pay the rent from London under an assumed name.

It was the convenience of this refuge and avenue of retreat, indeed, that had dictated his choice of this particular floor for the sixtieth flat had one advantage which he did not know of: "I'm going to quit Boston right away," said Mrs. Carter today. "I'm going to New York to see Laura, and if there is anything strange about this wedding I want to know it."

"Perhaps I won't fit with the Gould crowd. My hands may be a little rough. Yes, I'm a little wrinkled and there are a few gray hairs, but I'm going to make the trip just the same."

Taking out a little picture of Laura from the desk drawer, taken when she was about two, showing a wealth of wavy hair, Mrs. Carter continued:

"There's the little lot. If she could only see that picture right now, how I guess she would feel a little different toward her mother."

The mother shows records which state that Laura was born on Colorado street, Butte, Mont., November 22, 1898. Laura's father is Stuart Carter, formerly in the liquor business at Woonsocket, R. I., but last heard from in Reno.

Mrs. Carter is well known in the south end, where she has kept lodging house for some time. She was divorced from her husband many years ago.

Katherine Magee, Miss Mignon Wilson, Miss Vera de Vere Adams, Miss Ernestine Adams, Miss Schuyler Adams, Miss Harriet Walsh, Miss Amelia Gordon, Miss Katherine Cullin, Miss Marian Becker, Miss Marian Kergan, Miss Alice Pratt, Miss Dorothy Trabert, Miss Ruth Perkins, Miss Sally Long, Miss Louise Howard, Miss Lorna Williamson, Miss Eliza Schilling, Miss Beatrice Simpson, Miss Georgia Creed, Miss Elizabeth Magee, Miss Margaret Bassett, Miss Alfred Wright, Miss Allene Edoff, Miss Esther Sharon, Miss Madeline Benedict, Miss Dorothy Taft, Miss Clarissa Taft, Miss Amy Long.

Miss Ethel Glade, one of the pretty brides-elect of the later year, was the inspiration for a prettily appointed tea at which Mrs. George H. Chamberlain entertained a coterie of the younger set yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Shattuck. The attractive tea room overlooking the garden was the setting for the mid-summer affair.

Miss Glade is the fiancee of Sinclair Robinson of the Hawaiian Islands where the Glade family resided before establishing their home in Piedmont.

Assuring himself that the courtyard was deserted, Lanyard addressed himself to a door on the right; to his knock it swung promptly ajar with a click of its latch. At the same time the adventurous producer, from beneath his cloak a small black velvet visor and adjusted it to mask the upper portion of his face. Then, entering a narrow and odorous corridor, whose obscurity was only emphasized by a lonely, guttering candle, he turned the knob of the first door and walked into a small, ill-furnished room.

A spare-bodied young man, who had been sitting at a desk, rising by the light of an oil lamp with a hand green shield, turned and courteously said:

"Good morning, monsieur," he said with the cordiality of one who greets an acquaintance of old standing. "Be seated," he added, indicating an arm chair beside the desk. "It is some time since I have had the honor of a call from monsieur."

"That is so," Lanyard admitted, sitting down.

The young man followed suit. The laugh, striking across his face beneath the greenish penumbra of the shade, discovered a countenance of Hebrew cast.

"Monsieur has something to show me, eh?"

"But naturally."

Lanyard's reply just escaped a flavor of curtness—as who should say, "What did you expect?" He was puzzled by something strange and new in the attitude of this young man, a trace of relaxation, striking across his face beneath the greenish penumbra of the shade, discovered a countenance of Hebrew cast.

HUGE SHIP PLANTS WILL BE HURRIED

WASHINGTON. July 14.—Major General George W. Goethals, manager of the shipping board's emergency fleet corporation, has taken full charge of the government's shipbuilding program and announced sweeping plans for constructing the great merchant fleet with which the United States hopes to defeat the German submarine campaign.

The most important steps contemplated by General Goethals are these:

Immediate construction of two government-owned shipbuilding plants, for building 400 fabricated steel ships, of 2,500,000 tonnage.

Commandeering of 1,500,000 tons of shipping now building for private account in American yards.

A request for another great appropriation for building ships.

General Goethals' announcement was made in a letter to Chairman Denman of the shipping board, which said the fleet corporation, under powers just granted by President Wilson, would start on its building program Monday by offering contracts for construction of the two government shipplants, as well as by commandering the plans for commanding vessels under construction.

NOW IN ACCORD.

Chairman Denman said:

"I have no doubt the directors and the general will have no disagreement over 'Polar' on the program he has outlined for us when the matter has had full discussion."

General Goethals' announcement and Denman's comment were regarded by the general's friends as indicating a final settlement in his favor of the long drawn-out controversy between the two men as to the policy to be pursued in building ships.

The corporation's stand is made clear in General Goethals' announcement, will build all the wooden ships possible, but only after a design approved by the corporation's naval architect.

General Goethals' letter to Chairman Denman follows:

"Now that the President has authorized the emergency fleet corporation to exercise the powers granted by Congress to build and commandeer ships, I intend, on Monday, to start ship construction which will complete my shipbuilding plan. My full program is as follows:

"Contracts for 400 wooden ships have been let or agreed upon, with a tonnage capacity of 1,218,000 tons, at a cost, completed, of approximately $174,000,000.

"In addition I have under negotiation contracts for about 100 wooden ships.

"Contracts for seventy-seven steel ships have been let, or agreed upon, with a tonnage of 642,800 tons, at a cost of approximately $101,600,000.

AGGREGATE TONNAGE.

"There are thus provided 425 ships of all sorts, with an aggregate tonnage of 1,850,800, at a cost, of $300 more wooden ships under negotiation. I shall continue to offer all contracts for wooden ships (or design approved by the naval architects of the corporation) which I can secure from responsible bidders.

"My main reliance for getting the greatest amount of the most serviceable tonnage in the shortest time will be on the construction of fabricated steel ships of standard pattern. For that purpose I shall use, to some extent, the existing yards.

"On Monday I shall offer contracts for the building of two plants (to be owned by the government) for the construction of fabricated steel ships, to produce 400 ships of an aggregate tonnage of 2,500,000, within the next eighteen to twenty-four months. For the building of these two yards and the construction of ships in them I shall offer as compensation to the agents who undertake the work a fee of approximately 6 per cent of the total cost of the work, with rewards for savings in cost and for speed in delivery. Provision will be made for decreasing the fees to prevent unnecessary cost. The contracts will give the government the benefit or government-fixed commodity prices, and will provide for cessation of work at any time, so that the appropriation may not be exceeded.

"Options will be given to the contractors to purchase the plants at arbitration values on the completion of the work.

"The design of the ship is ready, the plans of the yards are ready, the distribution of the work of furnishing the material and of fabrication is arranged.

"This part of the program will take all the $550,000,000 available, not absorbed by contracts made or making as stated in the beginning of this letter. The program will more than redeem my estimates to the congressional committee at the time this appropriation was asked for of 3,000,000 tons of new construction within eight months.

BONDS ARE SOLD.

WASHINGTON. July 14.—Prompt absorption of the recently announced issue of farm loan bonds is assured, members of the loan board said today, by the number of applications already received. Patriotic participation in agricultural production for war needs and the present slump in certain industrial securities are believed to be underlying reasons for the large number of applicants.

It is expected that $150,000,000 worth of bonds will be issued by the twelve farm loan banks during the next year. The first issue for $5,000,000 will be made soon and others of like amounts will be made at ten day intervals thereafter.

The essence of the program is to commandeer all such ships and expedite their construction by adding labor and cutting out refinements. By this method each yard, giving it government help and putting it on a speed basis, we shall put the berths in commandering or contracting—within two days' loss of time in throwing the work into the winter months. It is for that reason I am urging that the program start on Monday."

This program is made competitive because expedition cannot be obtained in a yard engaged partly on rush work and partly on pre-war time schedules. My investigation has satisfied me that citizens of the United States and of our allies will pay the cost of expediting ships now building for them and take them off our hands. If this policy is adopted it will con serve our funds.

COMMANDERING SHIPS.

"On Monday I shall deliver to shipbuilders a general statement of the program which I have long been maturing for commandeering ships now under construction for private account (such ships having an aggregate tonnage considerably in excess of 1,500,000 tons)."

SEIZE NEUTRAL SHIPS.

"I agree that it is essential for the shipping board to requisition one or more neutral ships which are constructed and ready to sail. I have no data to make an estimate as to how many of these ships there are or how much money will be required for this purchase. I shall, therefore, cut my program to the extent of $50,

WOMEN RESENT PASTOR'S TALK; CHALLENGE HIM

CHICAGO, July 14.—The Women's Association of Commerce has "dared" the Rev. J. Frost of Evanston, Ill., to appear before its convention here and tell what his address at the Des Plaines, Ill., camp meeting Thursday, he was quoted as saying: "There is danger that the feminist movement will coarsen feminine fibre and woman will not be so angelic as she used to be."

The 200 delegates, representing business women from all sections of the country, sent Rev. Frost a militant challenge in the form of a resolution. The minister replied that he had been misquoted and declined to appear.

Mrs. Anna L. Quinby, of Columbus, O., told the delegates yesterday that women spent 90 per cent of all the money in the country.

"Woman," she said, "was snatched from business, but now she does not desire to return to the old-fashioned days when a grandmother was in supreme command. The old-fashioned man has disappeared, too, and the modern man either makes allowances to friend wife or hands her his check book and says, 'Go to it.'

Women are just as efficient as men in the railroad industry, E. S. Rice, consulting engineer of the Santa Fe, said in an address.

A pageant showing the progress of women was staged for the delegates at the American League park.

MEXICANS WILL BE AFFECTED

WASHINGTON. July 14.—That Mexico will be affected by the export licensing system that will go into effect at midnight to the same extent that it applies to European nations was made clear by the State Department today. The agency in charge of the restrictions on exports to Mexico was issued.

"In view of the explosive act of June 15, 1917, the State Department wishes to announce that from this time forward all shipments to Mexico, which have heretofore been granted State Department permits and which may be specified by any presidential proclamation, will require an export license.

Application for such license should be addressed to the division of export licenses, Bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, Washington, D. C.

"Permit will no longer be issued by the department of state with respect to any article which has been specified by any presidential proclamation. It is, however, to be noted that any articles for the shipment of which permits were required in the past and which are not covered by such a proclamation will require State Department permits as hereinafter.

"It is the desire of this department, as well as the division of export licenses, to assist in every way legitimate shipments to Mexico. The Mexican government, which was formerly in the coal trade between Oakland and Nankano, B. C., for the Western Fuel Co., brought on this trip the largest coffee cargo that ever came into port, consisting of 9,000 tons of freight, resting place and was purchased by Oliver J. Olson who has had her on the market ever since. When the Wrestler goes, it will leave the boneyard clear of all old time craft, outside of some old tugboats and sunken barges.

SHIP CHAPMAN TO BECOME BARKENTINE.

The old ship Chapman has been purchased and is now on the Atlantic side being converted into a barkentine. In former years the Chapman was registered as a clipper ship and made several trips to New York and the Golden Gate, but when the American-Hawaiian steamship line started it drove all of the mind-jambers out of the deep water trade. On the last voyage home from here the Chapman had only 100 crew and was sold. Now that sailing as well as steam craft are needed the old timer was placed in commission again, and when she comes here again she will be visited by many of the old time master mariners who have known her in early days.

2D—

During the past few days the commissioners have seen some of the largest ships ever brought through the Golden Gate. They came from different parts of the globe to refill the fuel bunkers, water tanks and get fresh provisions.

Two of the ships had calls on this port, the Argentinian steamer, which was for

THE VISITING BELGIANS.

The reverberating welcome that California is extending to the Belgian delegation but reflects the sympathy felt here for that outraged land. This is the first delegation from the allied countries to reach the far West.

It cannot be exactly said the entrance of this country into the war was to avenge Belgium's woes, but it may be said the crime against Belgium has been reprehended here from the very first and that it was acutely remembered when further forbearance became impossible. If American troops had a battle cry it could properly be "Remember Belgium!"

Our sympathies—our pledged purpose to assist in Belgium's redress—were certainly manifest in the enthusiasm of our people on the several public occasions when they met the delegation. The modesty of the delegates was admirable—their disposition to dissemble personally—to make it a national appeal. It was a marvel that representatives of a people that have been so infamously used could so maintain their equanimity while the story of their wrongs was being told.

In the early days of the war when we were appealed to by President Wilson to maintain a neutrality, there was always a reservation as to Belgium, mental if not outspoken. The sympathy of this State and coast went out to her from the day she was invaded. And this section of the United States shares emphatically in the determination to see this war through to a restoration of the country that withstood the first shock of the devastating hordes.

It was Archbishop Ireland who assured the delegates on their landing on the Atlantic shore that the nation is in this war not to lay down its arms or relax its efforts until Belgium is restored and compensated; and the sentiment is repeated on the shores of the Pacific by a people valiant and determined, and maintaining to its full the sentiment so patriotically expressed.

PROPER RESPECT FOR THE FLAG.

Information concerning the proper method of displaying, hanging and saluting the American flag has been dealt with in a circular issued by the adjutant general of the War Department. It develops that there is no federal law now in force outlining the proper methods to be pursued, or prescribing any ceremonies to be observed. At the present time there are upon the statute books but two federal laws bearing upon this subject.

The act of February 20, 1905, provides that a trademark cannot be registered which consists of or comprises the flag, coat of arms or insignia of the United States. The other act, that of February 8, 1917, provides certain penalties for the desecration, mutilation or improper use of the flag within the District of Columbia. A number of States have enacted laws to protect the sanctity of the Stars and Stripes.

The Department of Justice has issued a warning against desecration of the flag which subjects to summary arrest and punishment any alien enemy tearing down, mutilating, abusing or desecrating the United States flag in any way.

It is a practice in the army each day of the year to hoist the flag briskly at sunrise, irrespective of the condition of the weather, and to lower it slowly and ceremoniously at sunset, indicating the commencement and the cessation of the activities of the day.

On Memorial Day (May 30), the flag should be displayed from sunrise until noon at half-staff, and from noon until sunset at full staff. The flag should always be first hoisted to the top of the staff before being lowered to the half staff position.

Considerable discussion has arisen throughout the country concerning the proper manner of hanging and displaying the flag for decorative purposes. While the War Department recommends that as far as possible the hanging of the flag should be restricted to suspending it from a flagpole in the regular way, that is used otherwise it should always be hung flat whether on the inside or outside of buildings, with the Union to the north or east, so that there will be a general uniformity in the position of the Union of each flag displayed. Under no circumstances should it be hung where it can be easily contaminated or soiled or draped over chairs or benches, to be used for seating purposes. No object or emblem of any kind should be placed above or upon it.

It is appropriate, where several flags or emblems are displayed on pole or otherwise, that the United States flag should always be hoisted first and hung and displayed at the top and in all parades it must have the place of honor. It should never be hung or displayed with the Union down except as a signal of distress at sea.

When a flag has outlived its usefulness and is in such a tattered condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display it should be destroyed, avoiding any suggestion of irreverence or disrespect.

The suggestions offered by the adjutant general are deserving of the most careful consideration on the part of the American people.

HOSPITALITY TO INDUSTRIES.

A San Francisco contemporary, commenting upon the protest of an improvement club in that city against the proposed removal of an industrial plant to this side of the bay, draws some insidious comparisons between the attitude of San Francisco and the east bay cities, particularly Oakland, in the policies pursued toward new industries.

This contemporary suggests that it would be more useful for San Francisco to inquire into the reason that industries tend more and more to locate in Alameda county than to send letters of protest to those about to cross the bay. This question is propounded: "What is the relative attitude of the two communities toward industry, as indicated by the officials which we elect and the ordinances which we adopt?"

THE TRIBUNE would feel embarrassed if forced to answer this interrogatory. Our commercial organizations show the proper spirit, fortunately for this side of the bay. As to our municipal authorities we remain silent with the brief passing comment that there is much room for improvement and that we are looking toward the future with hope.

CENSORSHIP OF CABLES.

Congress may consider the question of how Germany received advance information of the sailing of our expeditionary force to France which enabled her to prepare two attacks by submarines, one in mid-ocean and the other within her proclaimed submarine zone. The inefficiency of the censorship of outgoing cables is receiving attention. It is claimed that such a censorship is limited to what is obviously military or naval information which permits apparently innocent cipher messages to go undetected. It is charged that despatches openly hostile to the interests of this country, though apparently not giving military or naval information, are allowed to go to South America and European neutral countries.

It is generally accepted in Washington that the attacks upon American transports were the result of the work of spies. The information of the sailings was not published in any newspaper. The press of the United States is scrupulously observing the rules of voluntary censorship. Necessarily a large number of persons witnessed the transfer of troops from mobilization points in the United States to their departure aboard the ships. An innocent little uncensored cable despatch to a neutral merchant might easily carry information of vast importance to the enemy.

It is apparent that the information which the enemy received of the sailings of the American transports was not furnished by the newspapers, but was due no doubt to a lack of proper censorship of cable messages to neutrals.

ALAMEDA AWAKE.

In yesterday's TRIBUNE a suggestion was offered concerning the employment of an expert engineer to make an industrial survey of Oakland's waterfront. The city-planning commission of Alameda, appreciating the importance of such a survey, has already taken steps along these lines for that portion of Oakland harbor which borders its shores.

A report will shortly be made. The tentative plans contemplate an industrial highway with proper belt railway facilities. The idea of zones for certain industries is also under discussion.

There are strong reasons for the fullest cooperation between the cities of Oakland and Alameda in making these surveys. Berkeley is likewise vitally interested.

As previously pointed out, it is advantageous for certain lines of industry to be located in close proximity. In other instances it might be detrimental for one industry to be in juxtaposition to another.

Certain manufacturing concerns would be objectionable near residential sections, all of which emphasizes the necessity for immediate action looking to a proper industrial survey of Oakland's waterfront. Now is the time to act.

The figures that the United States census bureau promulgated last Wednesday are contemplated here with becoming satisfaction, but not with exultation. When Los Angeles, some two years ago, took its own census and proclaimed the result to be 528,000, probabilities may have justified doubt, but controverting evidence was not forthcoming and we had to let it go at that. The statement went broadcast and it was largely accepted. Now the census bureau has made a new estimate, based largely on the registration for conscription, which gives Los Angeles but 452,627. On the face of this indicates that Los Angeles has lost 84,373. But probably that city has gained rather than lost. It is likely its claim of two years ago was further out of the way than the late census statement makes it out. In any event, it calls a halt to certain exuberances that have been persisted in by a community that has never claimed the shrinking violet for its flower, and established a juster ratio of population between the leading cities of the coast.

It is appropriate, where several flags or emblems

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

The committee of eleven appointed by President F. T. Swoett of the California Grape Protective Association recommended to the board of directors that the Rominger temperance bill, passed by the State Senate but defeated by the Assembly, be submitted to the voters in November "without any changes, alterations, amendments or modifications whatsoever." The board of directors approved this recommendation and decided to hold a mass meeting of the 3000 members of the California Grape Protective Association at some central vinticultural point on Saturday, July 21, when the grape growers and wine-makers will be given an opportunity to ratify this decision.—Weekly Calstogan.

The fence is expected to be absolutely spy-proof and is intended to be so strong that it would take so long for an enemy to cut it that he would be captured before he could get inside. The necessity for such protection is obvious, in view of the fact that the Hercules plant is one of the main sources of powder supply for this coast, and the recent occurrence at Mare Island shows the need of watchfulness.—Santa Rosa Republican.

Now if there is any quality in the administration at Washington at all, except stubborn deadlock, the report of the oil committee of the California State Council of Defense should produce some action. GARBAGE QUESTION.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

Every once in a while in this city we have to talk about the garbage question. In the last couple of years, especially, the matter has become very acute and has increased in time to the same people and the same prices. In one word, the Oakland Scavengers' Association in this city do as they please.

This year a new company, with new methods, tried to give us better service and a better price, but the opposition of the friends of the Scavengers' Association menaces the proposition.

Dr. F. F. Jackson, Commissioner of Health and Safety, proposes to revoke the contract given to the Sanitary Reduction Company and return it to the Scavengers' Association, but I don't think that would be right.

If any change should be made it will be well for the city to take over the proposition, as many other large cities have already done, but if the city will not do this, why not give out the license and give everybody the right to do the business?

It will be of more benefit to the people to have competition than to be subjected to one party. Yours respectfully,

A. DOROTHY.

FLAGLESS AUTOMOBILES.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

The number of automobiles without a flag is very noticeable on Sunday afternoons on the Lakeside drives, along which so many hundreds of machines pass during the band concerts. It sent a thrill of disappointment through me last Sunday afternoon (and I am sure other observers felt the same way) to see the woeful lack of patriotism as one beautiful automobile after another passed through the throng without a patriotic sign of any kind on it. It is a very small thing to do, put a flag or some "colors" on the automobile, and yet it says so much. It is not that Oakland herself is lacking in patriotism, for I have seen the finest kind of patriotic response in other ways, demonstrations of enthusiastic loyalty to our flag; yet in this way there seems to be a real indifference to "showing your colors" in public places. It must arise either from thoughtlessness or a self-satisfied smugness of prosperity (a prosperity the cars themselves attest), which makes them fail to realize that it is now, at this time, a public duty to show their colors everywhere.

Ordinarily it is a beautiful thing to see such a display of happiness and beauty, but now it is distressing sight when not accompanied by a mark of loyalty to the country to which we owe all—a country that is sending its young men, our boys, to battle for the maintenance of right and honesty. Let us all put a little flag on our automobiles.

BIG FIRMS' DRAFT FIGHT IS ILLEGAL

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Justice Department agents today directed attention of the War Department to several big corporations that are demanding their employees claim exemption from the draft.

Copies of circulars sent to employees urging them to claim their labor is "necessary to the maintenance of the military establishment" are in the hands of departmental officials for investigation. Officials say such claims by these corporations constitute an indirect evasion of the draft law.

Storms of protest are gathering in every section of the country today against the Census Bureau's "paper population" estimates used in apportioning the draft toll of men. They are causing uneasiness here.

The war department is being bombarded with telegrams from indignant cities demanding their population estimates may be revised or corrected.

Other cities content themselves with terming the figures "outrageous."

From the figures announced by the census bureau, the quotas of men that each city and county must furnish to the draft armies is being computed. The higher population the heavier burden the city must bear in filling the army ranks.

Some of the Middle Western cities cannot see why they should be penalized because they secured an unusually heavy registration.

OBJECT TO REPORT.

In announcing the estimates the census bureau made it plain that the figures were for use "solely in the draft," and that they were based largely upon registration figures and statistics of abnormal shift in population due to the war.

But the War Department, Mich., fails to say why the population estimate of 850,000 made by the same bureau just before registration should be boosted to 1,521,842 for the draft.

At the time of registration the bureau asserted that the estimates for registration were liberal. Other boosts in estimates hit the following cities hard:

Chicago, boosted from 2,547,201 to 3,628,857 for the draft quotas; New York, 5,896,044 to 6,504,185; Cleveland, 690,837 to 1,125,440; St. Louis, 788,630 to 827,264; and San Francisco, city and county, 471,023 to 550,333.

CANTON ANGRY.

One of the most bitter protests came from Canton, O. That city was raised from $2,556 to 177,588 for the draft.

"Never in our rosiest dreams have we aspired to more than 75,000 inhabitants," said telegrams from there.

In some of the coast cities and counties where the registration was only 75 per cent of the earlier estimates, the estimates are lowered proportionately. For instance, Portland, Ore., is cut from 308,399 to 204,592. Denver also gets a cut from 268,433 to 196,620.

Many of the cities are inquiring why the quotas were not based in a "common sense way upon the actual registration."

America's drafted army cannot be called to the colors for at least two months.

War department officials today realize for the first time how stupendous a task will be that of selecting the 687,000 men who will go to make the first draft in the army. There is reason to believe today that it will be a month, and probably six weeks, before every local district has assigned its quota. This work, which was under the supervision of the governors of the several states, is most complex and involving.

MANY PROBLEMS.

One of the problems which will arise will be the matter of determining the populations of the exemption districts. In large cities the exemption districts are not set up on ward or precinct divisional lines and this will involve a determination of census figures and sifting out inhabitants of each exemption district.

There also arises the serious question of determining the credits to which each exemption district is entitled. This work will mean that the war department will have to prepare long lists of men enlisted in either the National Guard or the regular army since April 2. These enlistments will then have to be according to residence and finally divided according to the exemption districts. This work alone will mean several weeks of labor by large staffs of clerks.

When the quotas are finally determined they will come the work of allowing exemptions and discharges. Care and fairness have been made the watchwords for exemption boards and this means that there will be no hasty hearings of claims and that every claim must be substantiated. When affidavits are presented with claims for exemptions these affidavits will have to be investigated. All of this will entail considerable time. The final detail will come in the mobilization of the men selected for service.

WILL TAKE TIME.

Officials declare that this work will take two weeks from the time the first call goes out and they expect to be at least a month in collecting all of the stragglers who may attempt to evade the draft or who have been away from their districts. In the mountain and country districts this work will be found particularly hard, it is anticipated.

CUPID IS 10 AHEAD

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—Thirteen persons sought divorce on the 13th, and twenty-three sought marriage license.

TRIBUNE WILL PRINT WAR REGISTRATION SERIAL NUMBER LIST

Watch The OAKLAND TRIBUNE for your serial number in the selective draft.

The complete lists of registered men in Oakland, consisting of 17,000 names, with the serial numbers attached to the duplicate cards which have been sent to Washington will be published Sunday morning by The TRIBUNE.

The United States government has requested that every man ascertain his own number in order that he may know, immediately after the result of the drawing has been announced, whether or not he has been selected for service in the army. These numbers have all been changed by the exemption boards since registration day, and it is the duty of each eligible man to find out his new serial number.

Realizing that much time would necessarily be lost by men standing in queue at the city hall to consult the one list which has been posted there, The TRIBUNE, to do its part in making the selective draft a success and to aid its readers, has made arrangements with the exemption boards to publish the complete lists on Sunday morning.

The issue of The OAKLAND TRIBUNE for Sunday morning will be invaluable to thousands of households for reference. Eligible men can find therein their serial numbers and the numbers of their friends and acquaintances. When the result of the drawing in Washington is announced, a glance at The TRIBUNE will tell a man whether or not he has been chosen for national service, and it will tell him as well who of his friends have been drawn.

HATTERS' HOMES SAVED FROM SALE

DANBURY, Conn., July 14.—The famous Danbury hatters' case was settled today and 141 hatters' homes saved from auction when D. E. Loewe, head of the plaintiff firm in the boycott action, signed a release freeing the defendants from all claims.

The Danbury case grew out of a boycott declared by members of the Danbury Hatters' Union against the Danbury Hatters' Union on behalf of the Alameda County hat manufacturers sued the members of the union for triple damages under the Sherman anti-trust law, charging that the union, by organizing and promoting a boycott against the firm's products had violated the Sherman law, which permits the recovery of the injured party of triple damages if it is violated.

Fourteen years were spent in litigation before the final judgment was rendered. The union contended the Sherman law did not apply to organizations. The case was bitterly fought.

Alton B. Parker presented the union's case in the Supreme Court which affirmed the original judgment obtained by the Loewe firm in the lower courts holding that the Sherman law applies to labor as well as other organizations.

The amount of money involved in the settlement was not announced. Upon leaving the meeting at which the release was agreed on, Martin Lawler, secretary-treasurer of the hatters' union, said:

"D. E. Loewe & Co. have squeezed the United Hatters to the last cent."

Formal release papers will be signed Monday and the Danbury case will be withdrawn from the federal court at which time it was announced.

In his report, Superintendent Edward Hyatt points out that the rate for each pupil has steadily decreased from $10.16 in 1910 to $12.19 in 1917. "The State is not meeting the obligation placed upon it by the rapid increase in the schools," he declares.

The amount of money remains about the same, while the enrollment rapidly gains. A concerted effort should be made to increase the money given to the elementary schools by the State."

The next apportionment to both high and elementary schools will be made between the 15th of September and the 15th of October. This can not be done until all the annual reports from county superintendents have been received, checked up and accepted.

Further Commendation

EDITOR TRIBUNE:

The editorial in last Wednesday's TRIBUNE regarding your plan for preserving the integrity of your advertising columns in the future deserves the thanks of every legitimate advertiser in our city.

If the public believed every advertisement run to be truthful, the efficiency of advertising space would be increased immeasurably. Wouldn't it? And inasmuch as the rates for space used are dependent upon the returns the advertiser receives, space in The OAKLAND TRIBUNE hereafter should be more valuable by far than heretofore. I make this statement, knowing that it may cost me as an advertiser to make it. Yet it's true.

The policy of The TRIBUNE, as I have noted it, has been to pursue this course heretofore, although you have never before stated it as a determined policy. And I don't believe you will lose much advertising as a result of this public expression. On the contrary, it would seem to me that the demand for space of such a character as The TRIBUNE offers will be even greater than before, and the results to you from stating this standard of practice should be extremely profitable.

Personally, I sincerely hope so. For no factor in our community has been so responsible for its upbuilding as your publication.

Sincerely yours,

FRED E. REED.

UNION IRON EMPLOYEES END TIE-UP

TREBUNE BUREAU
1134 PARK ST.

ALAMEDA, July 14.—The labor disturbance at the Alameda plant of the Union Iron Works failed to receive the sanction of the union heads at a meeting held in Oakland last night because a strike at this time meant an abrogation of the agreement between the union and the Union Iron Works, which holds until September, and the men went back to work today. In September it is believed that the new scale of $11 instead of $12 as now paid for riveting gangs will be brought up and insisted upon by the workers.

It was upon the advice of the union officials that most of the men who quit work yesterday are now back at work or will report for work when the hour arrives for starting the new shift. At the plant this morning it was stated that all the men were back except about 200.

ORDERED TO RETURN.

A possibility that men may quit as individuals and seek work elsewhere is contained in the advice given to the men to report back for work even if they remained but for a day and then quit. This reporting back for work is to give due recognition to the agreement between union and the ship plant.

That most of the men have headed to the advice of their union officials and returned to work is evidenced by the fact that all the several hulls under course of construction.

QUESTION OF WORK.

The question of giving riveting jobs to unqualified men and the assigning of the work as between old men and new men, presents a rather complex aspect to the present labor dispute, though it appears to be a matter for the men to solve and then submit the solution to the shipyards management for approval and enforcement. Several of the workmen said this morning that the poor riveting complained of was not all done by new men but by old hands as well. One workman said that two women, one of whom is Mrs. Louise Primm, were at the police station today in connection with the case and it is understood will swear to warrants charging Kellogg with obtaining money under false pretenses.

It is understood that Kellogg while in Los Angeles had become engaged to both women, obtained money from them under promises of marriage and then skipped out.

A third woman is brought into the case by the police discovery that Kellogg took out a license to marry Agnes Picco on July 10 and was married to her by Rev. E. Bradley.

As the result of the incident a more rigid inspection is being maintained at the yards and close watch is being kept to prevent a repetition of the same.

When Fire Chief Whitehead arrived on the scene smoke was pouring from under the vessel in four places, indicating that the flames had obtained a good start. Being of steel construction it would have taken long for the heat to have warped the plates and damaged the ship's bottom.

As the result of the incident a more rigid inspection is being maintained at the yards and close watch is being kept to prevent a repetition of the same.

President James McGuire of the Iron Trade Council, Business Agent R. B. Benton and Secretary Frank Daniels, all declare that no strike had ever been called. Responsibility for the walkout is disclaimed by all the men involved. When the riveters stopped, the heater boys and holdovers were forced to stop, and this automatically checked the supply of rivets to the mechanics, causing 700 men to lay down their tools.

DEATH CALLS 49ER

The funeral of George Henry Noyes, California pioneer, who died last night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edward Hoffman, 211 Blair Avenue, Piedmont, will be held Monday morning.

Noyes was one of the first shiploads of argonauts who landed in the bay after a long trip around the Horn.

Landing here in 1849, Noyes went to the Calaveras mines, where he became a part of the force which placed California in the lead as a gold-producing state. Later he returned to the coast, residing in San Francisco until fifteen years ago, when he crossed the bay to become an Alameda county resident.

A native of Charlestown, Mass., 91 years old, he was active and interested in world affairs until a few short weeks before death.

PROUGH BACK IN WINNING FORM ON JINX DAY

Oaks Show They Can Still Be Contenders if They Are Given New Battery Material Needed

By CARL E. BRAZIER

Whatever effect Friday, the thirteenth, may have had on other people, it would be a good thing for the Oakland ball club if it came every other day. For the Oaks went out on the Seal lot yesterday and more than made up for their rather disgraceful performance of the day before in their home lot. Yesterday they gave an cleanout exhibition as could be asked, nosed out the Tigers, 4 to 3, after the Tigers had taken a three-run lead, and thereby the Oaks evened up the week's series with Vernon and kept fourth place still within an overnight traveling distance.

Prough seems back in his old winning form if yesterday's work can be counted on, and if Prough can get out and pitch the boys to win as often as he was doing early in the season it should give the rest of the club the confidence to get out and do things to win back the favor of the fans. The Oaks still have a good chance for a first-division berth at the close of the race, and it's about time that some announcement has made to show whether the club intends to add new battery strength to keep pace with the other clubs in the league or whether the fans are to be asked to swallow the fact that the lowest-salaried club in the League will not spend anything to get the one or two men who would make the club dangerous right now.

The Oaks showed yesterday that they are taking care of their end and doing the best they can under the circumstances. Nobody has accused the Oaks of lying down on the job. Of course there have been days when their courage has been all shot to pieces with discouragement, but that has been the same kind of discouragement that the fans are beginning to feel as day after day rolls by and no signs appear of new strength coming to plug up the weak places.

VERNON HITS SCATTERED.

Prough did yesterday what Kremer and Goodbody had been powerless to do the day before—he held the Tigers to few hits, and kept the few he did allow well scattered. Six hits are all that appear in the Vernon basit column—some difference from the sixteen of the day before.

In the only frame that they could punch hits out, Prough, the Tigers also bunched them and a walk and the combination netted two runs. The other Tiger run had its start in a wild throw to first by Sheehan.

The four Oakland runs all came on combinations of clean hitting, although one error kept in to give the Oaks an extra base on the way towards one run so that Quinn could not be officially charged with responsibility for all the runs. Danny Murray's long fly drove in one run; Prough foiled the Friday jinx with a single, and then, to right after that chased in another, and Chuck Miller's infield hit gave Lee a chance to get over the plate when Quinn's throw to first went wide.
